

Hayley MacMillen

hmacmillen@gmsr.com

+1 310 859 7811

Hayley MacMillen brings to GMSR experience representing clients in all stages of civil and administrative litigation, including at trial. Her litigation expertise informs her detail-oriented approach to the appeals process.

Before joining GMSR, Hayley clerked for Judge Gabriel Sanchez of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. This role lent her firsthand knowledge of how rigorous command of the facts and law can help persuade judges and secure appellate victories. Having worked as a litigator at a large firm following her clerkship, Hayley understands the entire life cycle of a lawsuit, preparing her to work with trial counsel and clients to identify opportunities for success on appeal.

Hayley graduated from the University of California, Berkeley, School of Law, where she was elected to the Order of the Coif and received the Thelton E. Henderson Center Public Interest and Social Justice Certificate. Before law school, Hayley worked as a journalist specializing in reproductive health and rights.

Education

J.D., University of California, Berkeley, School of Law (2021); Order of the Coif; California Law Review; Prosser Prize (Constitutional Law); Jurisprudence Award (Sociology of Law, Human Rights and Social Justice Writing Workshop, Field Placement Ethics).

B.A., Northwestern University (2012), Philosophy.

Bar Admissions

California

U.S. Court of Appeals: Ninth and Seventh Circuits

U.S. District Court: Northern District of California
